Competence in compression: That's what BSN stands for

JOBST® flat-knit garments

Can compression garments get more stylish?

Why JOBST®?

60 years of experience

For 60 years, we have been focusing our energy on compression garments for patients with lymphatic diseases: We have high standards and reference those standards to continually enhance our proven products and add new ones year after year. Day after day, your customers feel the experience.

Diversity

The custom-fit solutions of our three lines of flat-knit compression stockings guarantee that every garment is tailored to the individual's specific needs. With a product assortment that essentially knows no limits, we meet the diverse range of specifications and requirements of your customers.

6 Compression classes

Only JOBST offers you flat-knit compression stockings custom-manufactured in six compression ranges. This is because we are aware that the finest graduations in compression have significant effect on therapeutic results and overall patient compliance.

Excellent breathability

A knitting structure with large, evenly spaced pores ensures a high level of air permeability in all our flat-knit garments. It is gentle on the skin, prevents unpleasant heat build-up and promotes wearing comfort.

Custom manufacture

Since every type of edema takes on different forms, our custom-made flat-knit garments guarantee a perfect fit for the optimum therapeutic outcome.*

UV protection

JOBST® Elvarex® compression garments give patients the confidence of knowing they are well protected even on sunny days. Trust in UV protection with SPF 80, corresponding to Standard 801 developed by the International Test Association for Applied UV Protection.

Cotton

The use of cotton – the classic of all clothing fabrics – in JOBST® Elvarex® greatly enhances wearing comfort thanks to its distinct skin-friendliness.

Natural rubber

Latex is also an important component of JOBST® Elvarex®. It remains flexible even when cold and adapts itself to the wearer's body. The best argument for latex is the "shape memory" of the material: after being stretched, it immediately returns to its original shape, thus enabling extended wear. However, patients that have a latex allergy should not worry because the latex is in the threads core, and does not touch the skin.
